To Whom It May Concern,

In December 2021, AIM Metals & Alloys Inc. (dba AIM Solder) finalized the purchase of the assets of BLT Circuit Services Ltd. We have retained BLT management to continue to run BLT with a "business as usual" approach. No changes to BLT's operating procedures are expected to occur.

While there are some synergies between AIM Solder and BLT, much of BLT's business is beyond the scope of AIM's business. That is particularly true for the distribution side of this business, in which BLT has great expertise. As such, BLT will continue to run that aspect of the business with no interference from AIM.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions at any time.

Sincerely,

David Suraski
